The Buildings Changed as the School Changed

1976 was the year of the Bicentennial. The entire nation spent much of its time listening and looking at reminders of our two century heritage. We were deluged by the subject in every direction we went.

In deciding the theme for THE STUDENT, the staff eventually decided to bring the spirit of the year to the school in a look at what we have been and what we have become. Port Huron High School has been in existence for one hundred and seven years. During that time America has changed greatly. We have attempted to show how that change has affected Port Huron High School.

The first school building in Port Huron was built prior to 1840 at Court and Seventh. In 1874, a new five-story brick school was erected on the present site of St. Clair County Community College. This building was used for grades and high school. It burned in 1906. In 1908, a new high school building was completed. In 1925, an additional wing was added. That same year, the old Civic Auditorium was purchased and rebuilt as gymnasium and auditorium. By 1955, the school was too small to house a growing student population. In January, 1957, the school was moved to its present building on Court and 24th Streets.

Council Power Grows

The Student Council dates from February, 1929, when the student body voted to try out the plan of Student Government. It has continued ever since.

The first Student Council was comprised of fifteen members and was to act as "a medium between the faculty and the student body," according to the 1930 STUDENT.

Through the intervening 46 years, the Student Council has grown both in numbers and in goals. Today, the group is totally responsible for planning, decorating, and supervising the annual Homecoming festivities. They hold "spirit week," the magazine sale (from which they earn operating funds), the Christmas Food Drive, and plan all assemblies. More than sixty representatives and officers are involved in the 1976 Student Council.

The Lighthouse Has Changed Too

The school newspaper, THE LIGHTHOUSE, has grown and changed with the passage of time. Founded in 1923, the paper has been published for 34 of the 52 years since.

Beginning as a monthly, it was composed and printed outside the school. In the Depression years, the paper stopped publication, resuming in the late '30's as a dittoed publication. Today, the paper is composed completely within the school and only the printing is done professionally. More than one thousand students have been members of THE LIGHTHOUSE staff.

Music Has Grown in Size and Sound

Music at Port Huron High School began as a definite part of the curriculum in 1910. Before that time, bits of singing took place very infrequently. In 1902, Miss Edna Fraser became the first supervisor of music in the Port Huron area. Formal music education was first started at that time. In 1919, credit was given for Music Appreciation and Orchestra, to augment credit in Vocal which had already been established. Instrumental music became popular when Mr. Ernest Straffon joined the high school faculty. The Port Huron High School Band grew in size and excellence under the direction of Mr. Straffon. Upon the arrival of Eric Payton, the Band almost tripled in size. Shortly after that, the concept of the Marching Machine was brought about. In 1972, The Marching Machine went to Germany for the summer Olympics.

Athletic Program Offers More Variety

Our first football team was organized in 1896. Football and baseball were the only sports. Today we offer a twelve sport program. Athletic Director Tubby Myers came to Port Huron in 1908. This is when the athletic teams really got started. The teams in those years played their games at the South West corner of Griswold and Seventh Streets. The players would have to dress at home and then walk to the practice field. The Big Reds had two championship football teams in the 1950's. The 1951 and 1952 teams were undefeated. At one time, they had a string of 27 wins without a loss.

Cheerleader's Appearance Improves

The spirit which led our teams to victory was the energetic boys and girls of the cheerleading squad. In the beginning, the cheerleading squad consisted of just males. As time progressed, the squad changed from strictly males, to a mixture of both male and female. Today the cheerleading squads consist of females.

Academics

Science Reveals the Unknown

During an ordinary school day, it would be difficult not to find something interesting going on in science class. Experiments generating sulfur dioxide in chemistry, dissecting earthworms in biology, or detecting earthquakes in earth science are everyday activities.

TOP — Kathy Green and Sue Gruel discuss problems in chemistry.

Issues Fire Social Studies

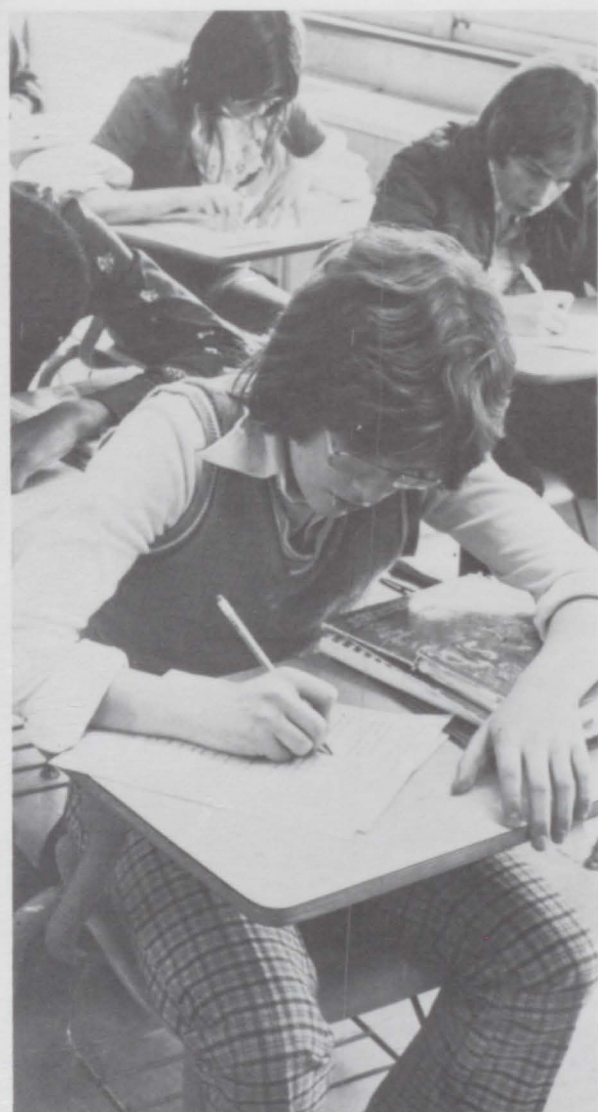

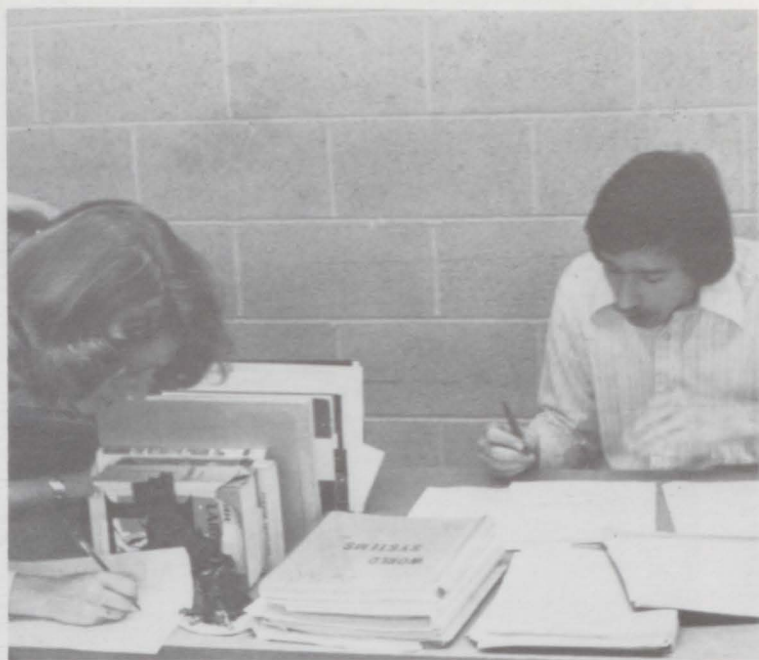

Confronting the problems of society is not always a pleasant job. America faces many difficult situations, not all of which can be solved in a word. Psychology delves into the realm of why we do the things we do. Economics explains the dollars and cents point of view. History deals with where we have been and what we did while we were there. POD is self explanatory, it deals with the ordeals that face a democracy in the modern world. Explaining these problems is the role that the Social Studies Department plays.

BELOW — Debbie Burnell and Gigi Mericka discuss American History problems.

BOTTOM RIGHT — William Hebner adds a touch of laughter to American History.

Industrial Arts Teaches Skills

Shop classes are offered to students who want to learn about industry or go into a particular trade. There is one thing common to all shop classes; they teach pride in workmanship.

TOP RIGHT — Rick Taylor working on a project in electronics.
MIDDLE RIGHT — Frank Rostine works on an assignment in electronics.

 LEFT — Steve Bickle and Robin Mortinger inspect the work they did on the lathe.

Physical Education Builds Mind And Body

In physical education, you learn the importance of a well-kept physique. Weight-training builds up the muscles, body, and mind. Volleyball, football, and other athletic sports help develop coordination.

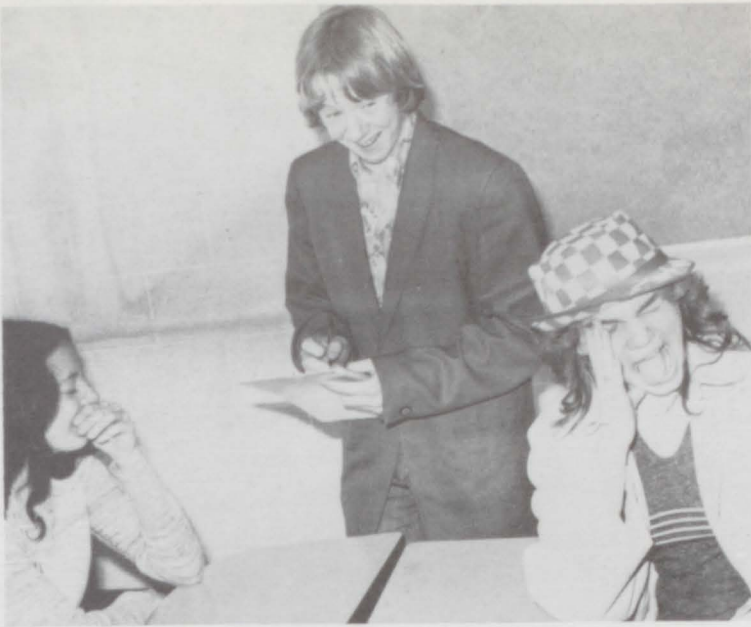

TOP — Kris Thomas gets ready to do an exercise on the uneven parallel bars.

Fine Arts and Language Add Class

The fine arts and language really are the piece de resistance. They develop the coordination of the hands, eyes, voice. Drawing and painting 1, 2, and 3 deal mainly with the use of pencil, chalk, charcoal, acrylics, and watercolors. Textiles works in weaving, rug hooking, macrame, batik, and other dye techniques. The language department teaches fluency in other tongues; such as German, Spanish, and French.

TOP — Jeannette Lapien, Debbie Campbell and Dan McVety practice a skit in French class.

Business Department Teaches Future Skills

The Business Department teaches skills for the future. The department offers classes in typing, office occupations, retailing, shorthand, and co-op. Emphasis is placed on entry-level vocational training.

RIGHT — Senior Lisa Dinger corrects a mistake in typing.

P. I. Program Grows

The physically impaired resource room provides individual, remedial and academic tutorial assistance for students integrated into classes at PHHS. Basic skills, specialized equipment, programed learning and pre-vocational assessment and training are provided in the program. This resource room emphasizes the student's capabilities in preparing him for realistic vocational choices and high school graduation.

English Concentrates On Reading and Composition

English deals with communication, the most basic of the skills taught in school. Grammar, composition, speech and reading are offered in the first two years of high school. American literature, composition and special electives are offered in the junior and senior years.

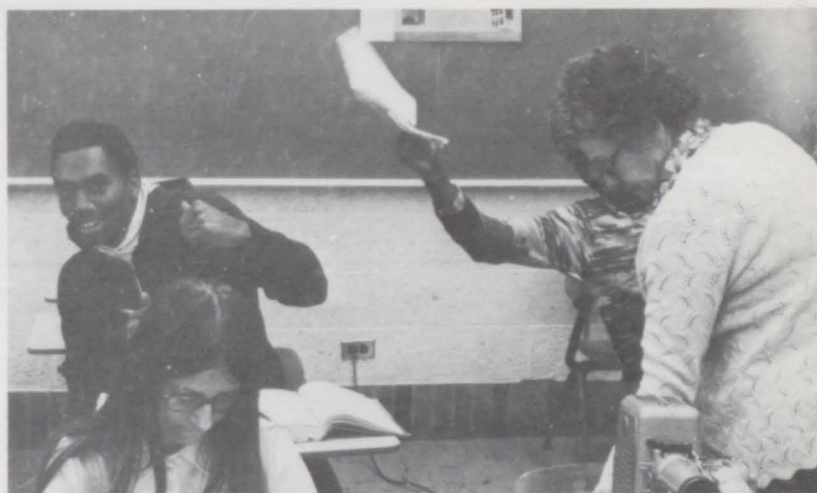

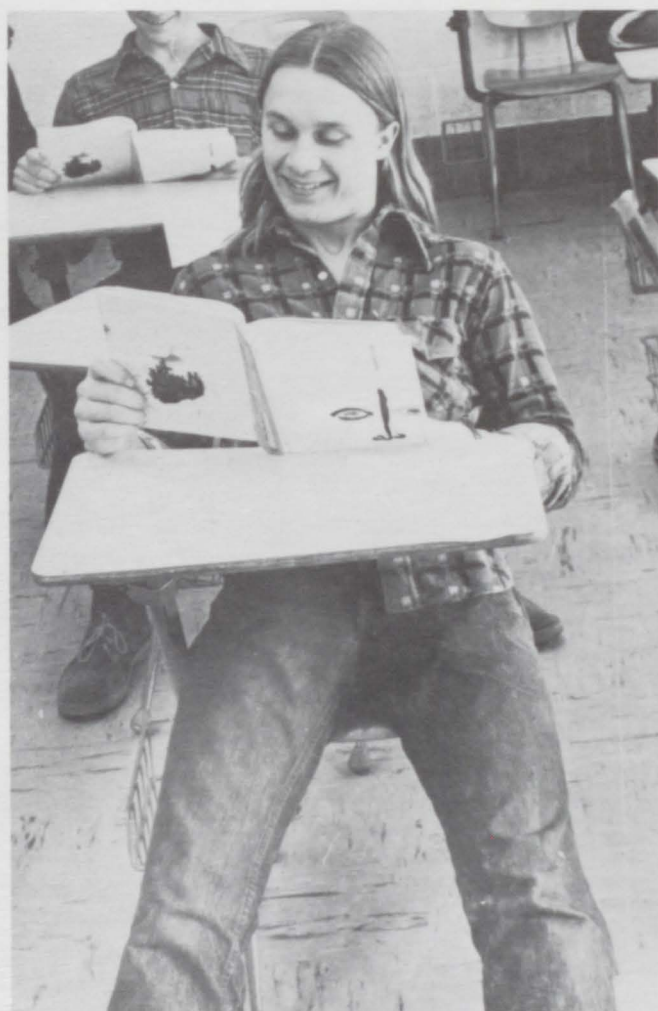

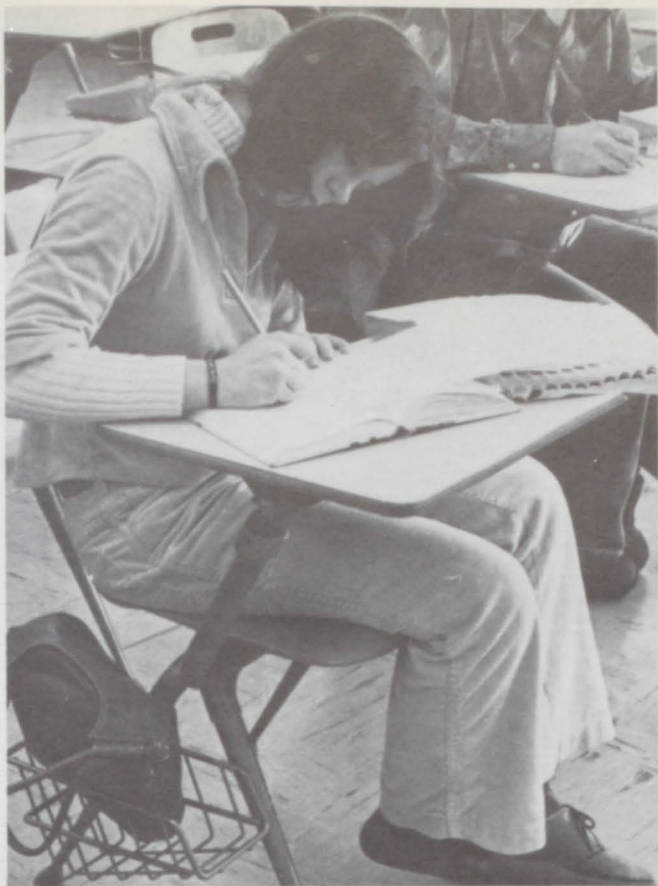

TOP RIGHT — Terry Caryl and Tom Thiele offer answers to Mrs. Barbara Donovan in English 3.

ABOVE — Willie Wooten puts a point across to Ken Thomas in reading improvement.

Music Department Going Strong

The music department offers an assortment of electives ranging from the Honors and Stage Bands to the A Capella Choir and Chorale.

The different groups perform a multitude of occasions including football and basketball games and assemblies for every season of the year.

The Choirs put on shows for the feeder schools in the area and sing at different churches for special events.

The marching bands are frequently in parades, and the Royal Reds Stage Band plays at PTA dances and private parties given by people of the community.

When they are not playing at one of these, both groups can be seen holding numerous fund-raising activities necessary to keep the program running.

Home Economics Offers Assortment

Home Economics offers many different classes. Classes include child development, foods, clothing, food management, and bachelor survival. The skills learned in these classes may be used after graduation.

Special Education Meets Special Needs

The Special Ed. Program offers students the opportunity to work individually on reading, math, English and history. In addition, the students learn how to type, weave, operate switchboards and they take field trips. A special unit on cooking is also eaten up by the students.

RIGHT — Earl Locke double checks answers.

Math Develops Logic and Theory

Mathematics provides a background of basic procedures and logic. This background provides a prime foundation for advance study in math and science. If you don't plan to go on, the use of geometry and the theory of algebra will still be a great help to you.

Organizations

The Thunderbirds performed "Toyland Spectacular" at the Bantastic show November 15 in the gymnasium.

TOP — Student Council Advisor Mr. Harry Burgess.

RIGHT — Junior Don Ellis has been actively involved this year, working on many of the committees and projects.

Student Council Grows in Responsibilities and Duties

At the center of student activity, stands the Student Council. Responsible for the planning and organization of Homecoming, assemblies, and campaigns to enrich student experience, the council provides an active forum for student thought and action.

Meetings were rotated this year, allowing everyone a chance to serve regardless of schedule. Representatives were elected at-large by class rather than by homeroom for the first time. This helped to insure equal and constant representation.

Mr. Harry Burgess was the advisor. (See page 4 for a history of the Student Council)

Involvement Has Many Faces

The Hall Monitors were organized in an attempt to control hallway traffic during classes. They make sure that everyone walking through the halls has a pass or a legitimate excuse for being out of class.

The Hall Monitors assisted the staff and parents during the Open House held in November. Mrs. Betty Bowman is the advisor for this organization.

To promote school spirit at football and basketball games, a Big Red Chief is elected each year by the student body. Last Spring, for the first time since the origination of this position in 1966, a girl was elected.

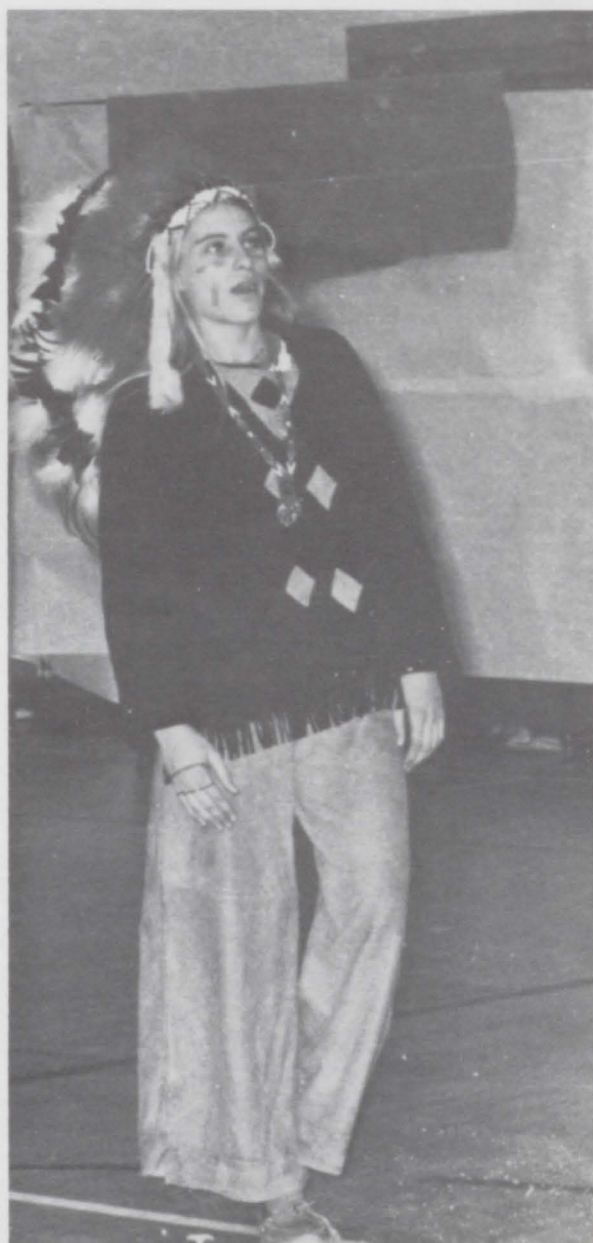

Mary Jane Adams was the winner. She is also a member of the Marching Machine, Girl's Varsity Club, National Honor Society, Ski Club, and Varsity Tennis Team. Mary Jane designed her own costume and dresses up at every school activity, complete with war paint and headdress, to give our sports team the cheering they deserve.

Aids Help Out in the Library

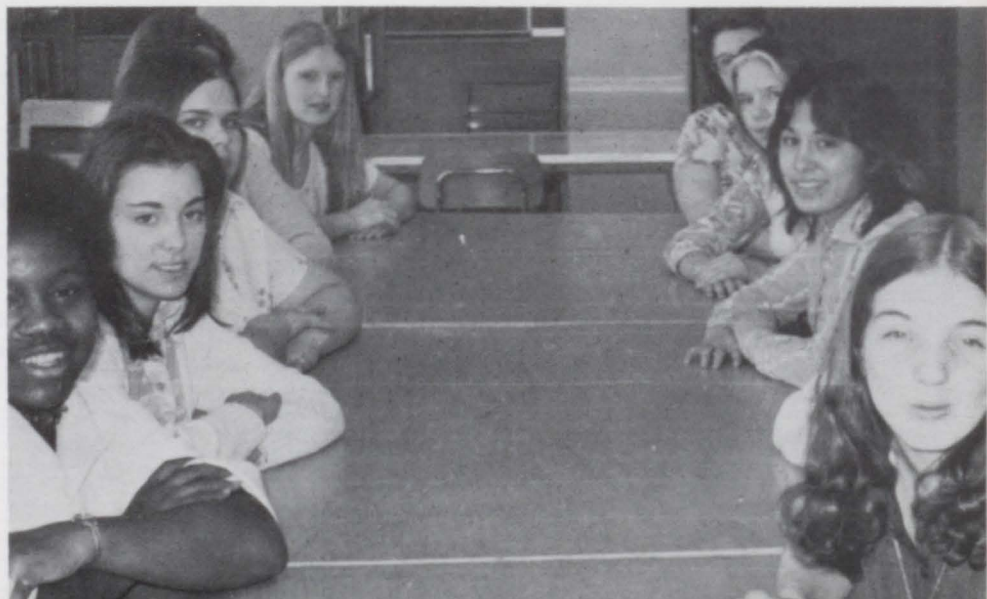

Finding a book in the library can be a difficult chore. The Library Aids are there to help when you have trouble. They also replace books on the shelves as they are returned, and check out books at the desk.

"Open Doors" and Debate Offer Extra Challenges

Opening doors leads to stepping inside; but for the students who edit the literary magazine of Port Huron High School, it means much more.

Since 1972, the Open Doors staff has been publishing student's literary creations from all the Port Huron area schools.

Miss Pam Miller, a new English teacher this year, is the faculty advisor of Open Doors.

Practical experience in speaking is found on the Debate Team. With a record of 9-8, the varsity team finished fourth in the E.M.L.

Ann Greenham took first place for top speaker points, with Vida Bonacci following by a fraction of a point.

Meetings are held after school to discuss plans and gather evidence to be used in each debate meet.

The Debate topic was "Resolved: That the development and allocation of scarce world resources should be controlled by an international organization."

The Debate coach is Miss Patricia LaVoy.

Tomahawks

The newest addition to the Marching Machine is the Tomahawks. This group was designed to prompt school spirit and provide entertainment at football and basketball games.

The Tomahawks are an original group performing Indian style routines with tomahawks and spears.

The officers of the squad are Judy Manzel, captain; Gayle Woodyard, assistant captain; Rhonda Edwards, treasurer; Donna Hoffman, secretary, and Lorrie Breidenich, wardrobe manager.

Working at the Walk-a-thon sponsored annually by the March-of-Dimes and marching in parades are just a few of the activities that the Tomahawks participated in this year.

New uniforms were purchased this year. The first showing of these uniforms was at a home basketball half-time show where the team performed.

The sponsor of the Tomahawks is Kathy Knowles and the faculty advisor is Mr. Eric Payton.

TOP RIGHT — Patty Marthen, Ranae Kelch, and Donna Hoffman performing a routine to "Love Will Keep Us Together" in their new uniforms at a basketball game.

Cherokettes Boast New Look and Name

The Cherokettes Twirling Team is one of the oldest auxiliary groups in the Marching Machine. Since 1932, they have participated in football and basketball games.

The group changed their name from the Majorettes to the Cherokettes this year. New uniforms and lighted batons also added to the success of the team.

Besides taking part in school activities, the Cherokettes marched in the Blue Water Festival Parade in the summer of 1975 and they entered in competition this Spring.

TOP LEFT — Cherokettes perform in their new uniforms at a basketball game. The team participated in four half-time shows this year. Pictured are the members of the 1975-76 group; Denise Cameron, Tammy Raines, and Marjorie Brown.

LEFT — Precision timing is mandatory for the majority of moves involved in this group's routines. Mastering the steps are Marjorie Brown, Tammy Raines, and Denise Cameron.

Thunderbirds Entertained in '76

The Thunderbirds act as an official entertainment group representing the school. They also act closely and are an integral part of the Big Red Marching Machine.

Practice and performance are key words in the Thunderbird vocabulary. They meet three times each week after school to practice. They performed this year with the band, for the Retired Teachers, during Bantastics (doing their Toyland Spectacular routine), at basketball game half-times, and in competition at Rochester High School in March.

They carried on numerous fund-raising activities, car washes, bake sales; and acted as guides during freshman orientation.

The 1976 officers are Kathy Glenn, captain; Sherri Burgos, co-captain; Lynne Strobbe, secretary; Carol Eisenhauer, social chairman; and Brenda Brown, historian. The sponsors are Miss Jan Dittenber and Miss Eleanor Lee.

TOP RIGHT — Crystal Patterson, Diana Walsh, and Gayle Meyers perform at Bantastics in Toyland Spectacular.

Display Flags Wave With Precision Routines

The Display Flags add color to the Big Red Marching Machine, performed at Open House and game half-times, and acted as guides during freshman orientation. Meeting in the bandroom, they practice all through the school year.

The 1976 officers are: Kay Szczepanski, captain; Anna Deveny, co-captain; Debbie Lazurka, secretary; and Beth Warsalla, treasurer. Miss Pam Miller is the advisor.

Cheerleaders Work Hard to Build School Spirit

The main purpose of the Cheerleaders is to promote school spirit. This year, in addition to cheering at all of the varsity football and basketball games, the squad took part in the Blue Water Festival, sold candy and calendars for the Booster Club, acted as sign-bearers for the Big Red Marching Machine, served at sports banquets, assisted at Open House, planned and led the pep assemblies, and visited the Washington and Kimball Schools to help boost school spirit. Numerous bake sales, candy sales, and car washes, helped to raise funds for camp, equipment, and uniforms.

At camp last summer, the squad received the Team Improvement award and two outstanding ratings. They learned 30 cheers to use this season. The fall officers included: Dodie Lindquist, captain; Ronda Zeigler, co-captain; and Debbie Burnell, treasurer. Mrs. Ellen Gettleman is the sponsor.

Second row: Melondia Morgan, Darlene Bennett, Heidi Edwards, Lisa Johnson, Gretta Knight, and Michelle Thornwell.

Girl's Athletic Association Continues to Grow

Intramural games and tournaments are the basis for the Girl's Athletic Association. Weekly meetings are held in which such sports as basketball, volleyball, badminton, and table tennis are played between teams. At the end of the season, tournaments are held to determine the winning team.

Football programs are sold at each home game and during homeroom as a fund-raising activity for the G.A.A.

A variety of activities are held during the year. Special nights such as mom and dad's nights, a Christmas party, co-ed night, and an intermediate night are some examples. On these nights different people are invited to come to the meetings and take part in the games.

An award night is held in April to honor all the outstanding girls in this club.

Officers are elected each year. This year, Cindy Halifax was president; Sheilah Fleckenstein, senior vice-president; Patty Geick, junior vice-president; Ida Perez, correspondence secretary; Trisha LeTarte, recording secretary; and Kathy Ignash, sports chairman.

The G.A.A. faculty sponsor is Mrs. Judy Biddle.

National Honor Society in Grade 'A' Shape

Character, scholarship, leadership and service are the primary goals of the National Honor Society.

Dan Strobbe, president of the National Honor Society, has been responsible for really getting this year's group moving.

Candy cane sales, a teacher week, and an Amway demonstration have been sponsored by the group to raise money for their annual scholarship.

The advisor for the National Honor Society is Miss Margaret Welch.

TOP LEFT — National Honor Society members Mark Schwab, Mark Warsinske, Anna Miller, and Pam Conrad at a meeting. Plans for the Christmas tea and other fund-raising activities are all debated at monthly meetings by the members.

Math Club Multiplies

The Math Club is an honorary club designed to create an interest in math outside the regular classroom work.

A trip to the math and science departments of a college or university was planned by this year's club. In order to raise enough money for this trip, the members sold carnations and held bake sales.

Officers of the Math Club are Ellen Eastwood, president; Cindy Halifax, vice-president; Sue Gruel, secretary; and Steve Polovich, treasurer.

The sponsor of the Math Club is Mr. Glenn Smith.

RIGHT — Ski Club members Jon Gendraw and Tim Bachler try their luck at an Alpine Valley slope. The Ski Club made a trip to this mountain every week during ski season.

Revitalized Ski Club Took Advantage of Big Snows

Due to its doubling in size the Ski Club has developed into a booming organization. With an overabundance of snow this winter the club had many opportunities to ski the mountains of Michigan.

The trips to Caberfae, Sugar Loaf, and Alpine Valley were all very successful.

The Ski Club is for all students regardless of ability. You don't have to be an advanced skier to have great fun.

Officers of the Ski Club are Jim Westrick, president; Jeff Mechan, vice-president; and Mary Jane Adams, treasurer.

The Ski Club advisors are Mr. Chet Harwood, Miss Karen Spehar, Mr. Paul Michalsen, and Mr. Jim Clair.

S.T.A.C. and Varsity Club Are Involved

The Varsity Club is an organization which was designed for the purpose of providing fellowship and social well-being among Varsity letter winners.

An opportunity for membership occurs after every seasonal sport and is available to all varsity letter winners. Current members think of various initiation stunts that persons trying for membership must comply with. An example is walking around school with white socks on and jeans rolled up to the knees.

Fund-raising activities included a raffle of two quarters of beef and the sale of refreshments at basketball games.

The sponsor for the Varsity Club is Mr. Art Willick.

The Student Teacher Advisory Council is a group of students and faculty members formed to provide better communication between them. Problems concerning the policies of the school district are discussed as well as individual problems with certain classes or students.

There are four faculty members on this council and four students.

Girl's Varsity Club Born

The Girls Varsity Club was organized this year by Mrs. Judy Biddle. The purpose of this club is to have an opportunity for the girl athletes to have the chance to meet and organize activities for themselves.

Initiation week included dressing up in costumes or carrying around stuffed animals.

A canoe trip down the Ausable River was planned for Memorial Day weekend. Bake sales and raffles were held to raise money for this trip.

The Girl's Varsity Club is open to any girl having a varsity letter.

Officers for this club are Debbie Campbell, president; Patty Geick, vice-president; Theresa Armstrong, secretary; Cindy Halifax, treasurer; and Janet Warsinske, sergeant-at-arms.

Responsibility and Effort Key to Yearbook Success

The yearbook classes are the core of a group of students that attempt to publish a permanent record of the school year. THE STUDENT is the result of that effort. Yearbook design, typography, advertising, photography, copy and cut-lines, and the index are all mastered in the attempt. Except for the actual printing and binding, the book is totally the result of student labor.

The Editor and Business Manager of the 1976 STUDENT was Lorrie Breidenich. Jeff Arnold, Jim Biga, Carl Breidenich, Cornel Collins, Wayne Furman, Cindy Kendrick, Jim Lessard, Trisha LeTarte, Mary Ann MacKay, Tammy Miller, Mike Schroeder, Mary Tetreau, and Joni Todd were Division Editors. Each was responsible for producing a section of the book.

The advisor was William Mitchell.

Lighthouse is Result of Work

The LIGHTHOUSE is the official student newspaper. It is also totally the result of student effort. The paper is completely produced within the journalism classes, except for the actual printing. Layout, design, topography, headlining, photography, advertising, circulation, and writing are all produced by the staff. Joining the staff is like taking on an unpaid part-time job. Deadlines follow deadlines, reach one and another is sweeping down. It does not appeal to the frail of heart. Those that survive the winnowing process never forget the experience.

The LIGHTHOUSE was edited by Senior Mary Ann MacKay. She was also the Business Manager. Dennis Balmer, Therese Clawson, Kathy Chidester, Trina Dortman, Ford Hebner, Carol Isbister, Gigi Mericka, Mike Powell, Tom Schef, and Veronica Washington make up the 1976 staff.

The advisor was William Mitchell.

Varsity Faced Rough Year

Despite hard playing and long hours of practice, the varsity football team could only produce one win this season. The disappointing 1-8 record was not indicative of the team's ability. They rushed for 1168 yards, averaging over four yards per carry. Combined with a passing attack that connected 41 times on 111 attempts for 469 yards, the varsity gained over 1600 yards in nine games. They scored 71 points while giving up 226. Fumbles and interceptions killed key scoring drives all year long.

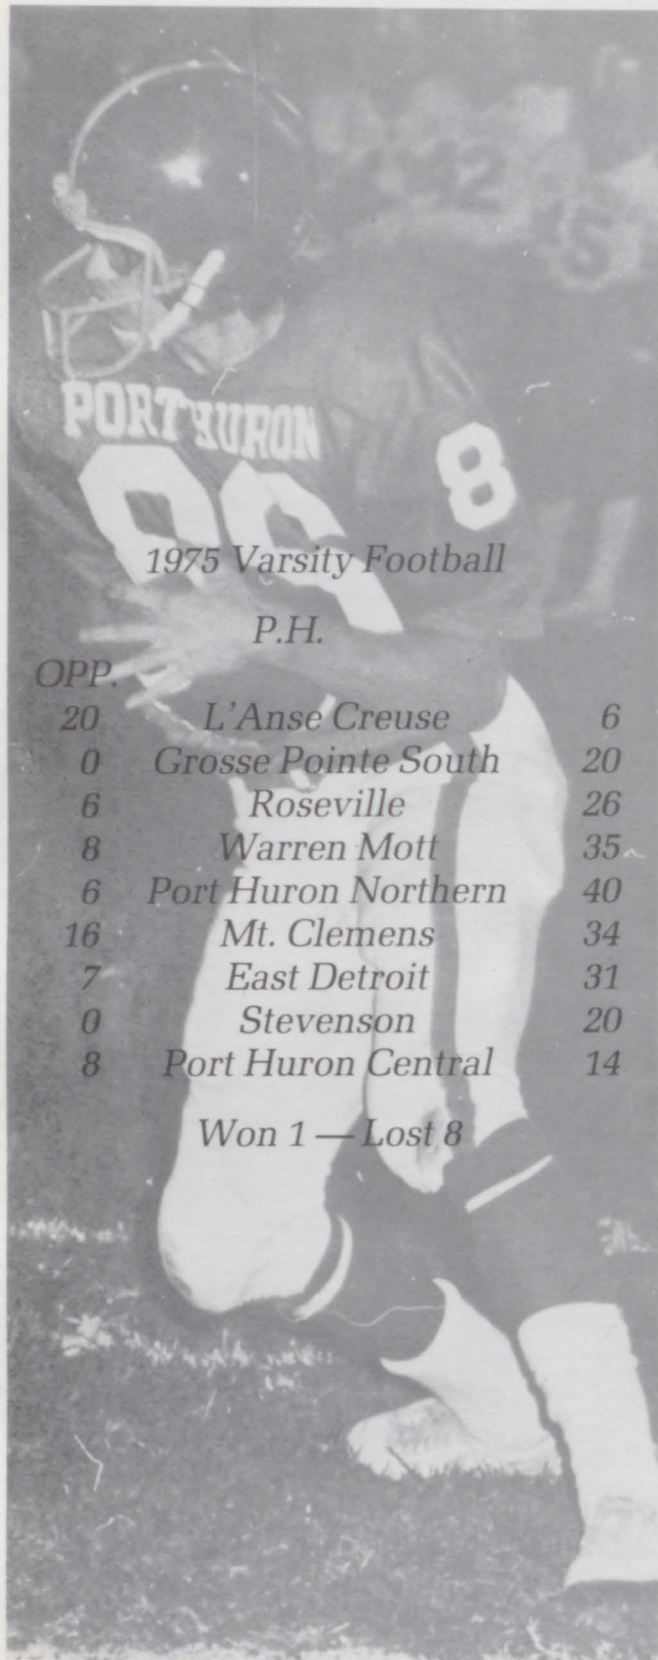

There were 36 varsity letter winners. Senior Dave Thomas won the "Unsung Hero" award for scoring the most points on defense (12). Senior Tony Pearson was named the team's Most Valuable Player. Tony also received All-City and All-League honors.

Tough Year for J.V.

The Junior Varsity Squad had thirty letter winners in a 0-7-2 season that saw them score 90 points while giving up 284 points to opponents. They gained ties against L'Anse Creuse and Central's Cougars.

Head Coach was John Schneider and Assistant Coach was Jim Rathje.

Frosh Managed One Tie

The freshmen started slowly this year, not scoring until the fifth game of their schedule. They gained their only tie in a scoreless defensive battle here against L'Anse Creuse North on September 24. They tallied only 20 points for the season while giving up 145 points. Regardless of the poor 0-7-1 season, Coach Mac Domke sees the team maturing into a strong junior varsity squad. Girls Tennis Makes State Finals

This year's girls tennis team won four matches, lost six. For the first time in history, members of the team advanced through the regional and district tournament, to the quarter and state finals.

Mary Jane Adams and Theresa Armstrong, this year's most valuable players, went on to the state finals and were defeated 0-6; 4-6.

Varsity Posts First Winning Season in Eight Years

The varsity got it together this season, played tight, aggressive defense, and won 11 games. Lacking real height, they played team defense to make up the difference. In the final game of the year, Senior Steve Stocker scored 45 points against L'Anse Creuse North and set a school record. He was also the second leading scorer in the history of varsity basketball at P.H. The varsity was coached by Mr. Ron Gutkowski.

J. V. Faced Rough Year

The junior varsity basketball team under Head Coach Ed Peltz didn't win a game this season. Competition in the league was fierce. A number of games were lost when key plays failed to produce needed points. A lack of rebounding height coupled with low shooting percentages, cost the team victories all season long. They kept at it though, and went out and tried in every game.

J. V. Baseball Had 21 Letter Winners

Although the record was not impressive a lot of improvement was made during the course of the season. A great number of people played in the hopes that it would make the varsity stronger next year, with a majority of the personnel having had game experience. There were a lot of the games that they played that with a break or two would have given them a winning season. The J. V. mentor was Mr. Larry Klink.

Varsity Tennis Wins It All

The tennis team did it all for P.H. in 1975. They posted the first undefeated season in the history of our tennis program. 14-0 in league competition, winners of league meet, 2nd in the State Regionals, were only a few of their accomplishments.

Barb Seldon was the first female to be a number one singles player in the history of the league. She was undefeated in dual match play. Scott DesJardin was number two singles. He was also undefeated in all match play for the entire season. Scott also qualified for the State meet, won one match and moved into the top 16 player rating in the state.

The coach was Mr. Hal Langolf.

1975 Track Team Wins All-City Championship

The 1975 track team won 4 of 7 meets. Captain Alonzo Thomas finished in second place at the Regional meet at Rochester and participated in the State finals at Flint. Tyrone Burrell set a new Sophomore record of 1:59.8 in the 880 yd. run.

Senior hurdler Dan Rehberg, this year's most valuable player, led the team in total points.

Head Coach John Schneider said, "the team worked hard and well. This was the key factor in winning the City Championship." (P.H.H.S. 67½, P.H.C. 65, Northern 47, and Marysville 42.)

Activities

Activities are a key part of the school experience. In the 107 years of the school's existence, they have changed greatly. Commonly accepted activities today would have shaken the school to its foundations a century ago. Many of the students only attend class to be able to take part in extra-curricular events. Learning is not confined to the classroom.

STUDIO

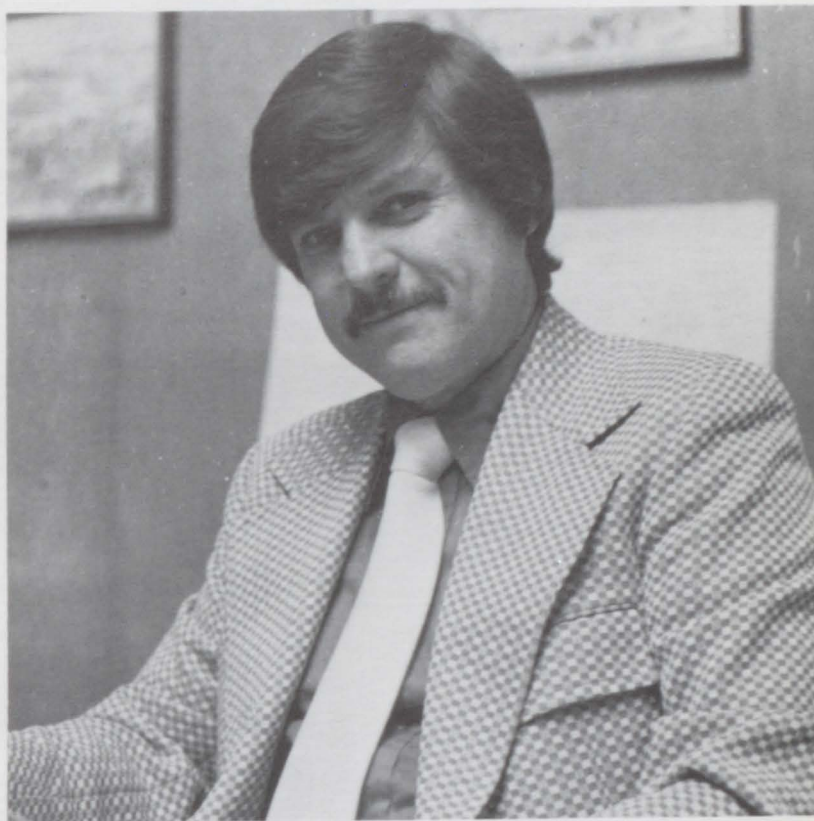

My association with Port Huron High School has been extremely gratifying. The support extended by the student body, staff, parents and citizens has been outstanding. The interaction and cooperation of all these people has produced a well-rounded curriculum and an excellent extra-curricular program.

The neighborhood school lives. If there is any doubt, visit Port Huron High day or night and you will see why. Because, the people make the school!

Chet Wydrzynski
Principal

Administration Handles Total Building Activity

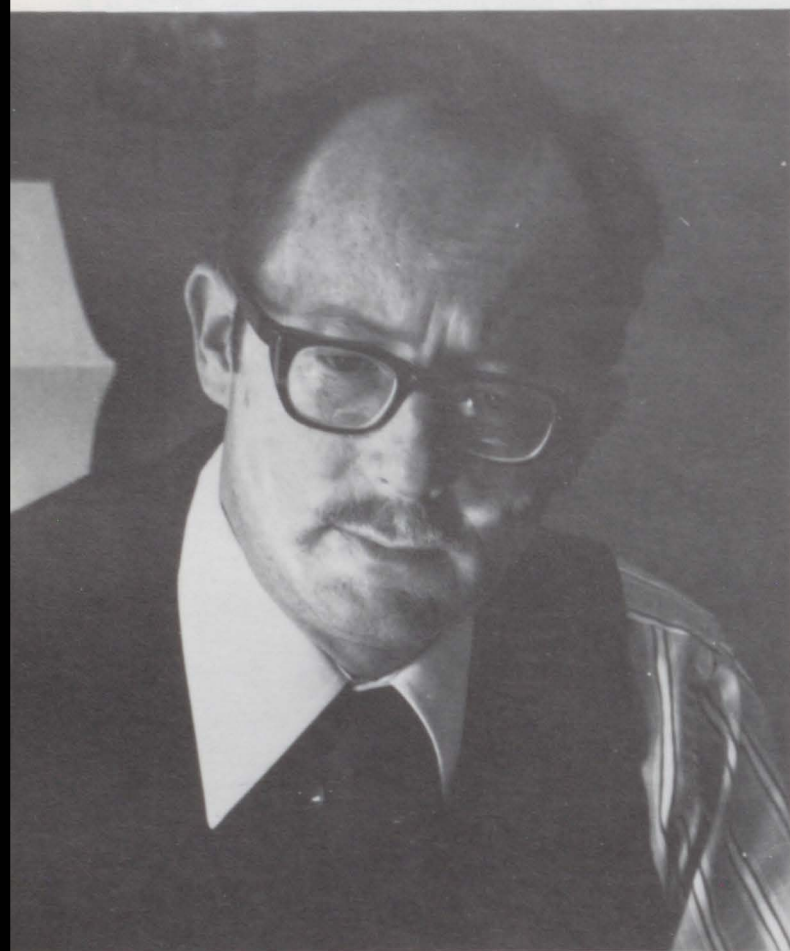

Important decisions here at Port Huron High are made by the principals. These men have the hardest jobs here in Big Red Country. Mr. Smith is in charge of scheduling, curricular planning, and implementation. Mr. Beedon handles finances. Mr. Ufford is in charge of extra-curricular activities, night and summer school. Between all three they handle discipline.

Six Individuals Handle Counselling

To be a counselor takes patience, personality, and time. Helping students deal with personal problems requires skill and understanding. Scheduling, testing, and record keeping add to the work load. No single book on how to do the job is available. Each counselor approaches the job with his own personal style. Each is different. They are a unique group.

Special Education and Orthopedic Instructors Handle Their Jobs Successfully

In special education there are two instructors, Mr. Martindale and Mrs. Young. These two instructors teach math, reading, English, history, and cooking. Their jobs require a lot of patience.

Mr. Michalsen teaches handicapped students. He teaches these students speech therapy, physical therapy, and occupational therapy.

Reading and Writing Are Still the Chief Concerns of English

English requires six semesters of course work. In the freshman year, English 1 and 2 review grammar, reading skills, and the development of paragraphs. During the tenth grade year, poetry and novels are studied in English 3 and 4. Juniors are required to take American Literature. Creative writing, reading improvement, speech, plays and play production, journalism, and yearbook are offered as electives. Mrs. Zaida Chidester is head of this department.

Social Studies Prepares Students For Future Problems

The Social Studies Department, which is headed by Mr. Ralph Harrison, requires a student to take six semesters of course work. This department offers electives in Psychology, Values and Clarification and Michigan and World History. Required courses include: Civics 1 and 2, American History 1, and 2, and Problems of Democracy 1 and 2, (better known to seniors as POD). The purpose of these class requirements is to help teach about the society in which students will live.

Co-op Provides On-the-Job Training

In the Co-Op department, Mr. Larry Winters is in charge of the work experience program, which enables students to gain experience while on the job. He also teaches bookkeeping, recordkeeping, and general business. Co-op Director Jim Clair has only one class, marketing and management. He devotes the rest of his day to finding jobs for students interested in the co-op program.

Secretaries and Aides Help Keep School Running

The secretaries handle difficult jobs in all areas of the school. Account Clerk Maureen Zeig handles all money matters and works with Assistant Principal Tom Smith on scheduling and also takes care of attendance. Mrs. Yvone Babin is an orthopedic aide who works with handicapped students. Mrs. Patricia Bingham takes care of all the bookwork in the library. The counselors have Mrs. Betty Bowman to take care of all their secretarial needs. She also handles the runners. Mrs. Chris Efstratis is the educational secretary. Mrs. Sydney Kuzma does general typing and does work for the three assistant principals. Mrs. Betty Kipp is Principal Chet Wydrzynski's personal secretary.

Being a secretary is no easy job, you must have the ability to type, answer phones, and most of all work with other people.

Float Construction Proves Class Strength

Many events occur during each school year, but of them all, Homecoming is the biggest. Homecoming is popular because it gives every student a chance to become involved in activities. Although most of the activities centered around Homecoming require some special skill or talent, there is one, float construction, which requires only ambition and pride.

The Senior class has proved that float construction was important to them with large turnouts and hard work. Their hard work has not gone unrewarded.

In two of the four years the class of '76' snatched second place finishes in the float competition.

Of the four years, this year was by far the best for the class of '76.'

A late start put the pressure on and with only days left it looked like they might not finish. Great participation and self sacrifice pulled them through with flying colors.

Although the float placed second, missing first by only a couple of points, it was a great achievement for the Seniors to have pulled together and worked as a team.

TOP LEFT — This years Senior float, the U. S. Constitution took a great deal of work and placed second in the float competition.

ABOVE — The Class of '76' named their junior float Broom Hilda but despite the name it took a strong second place in the float competition.

LEFT — Sophomore year proved to be a bad one for the Class of '76' as they had to settle for fourth place with their float Thumper.

Bake Sales and "Green Brownies" Fueled Seniors

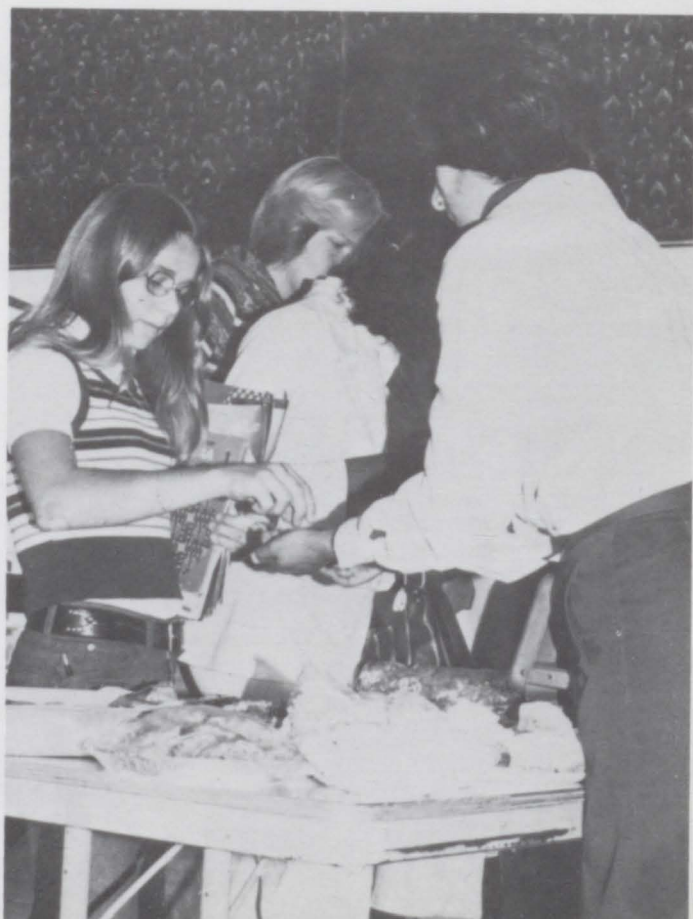

Of the activities the Senior class became involved in, the two that received the greatest amount of participation were the bake sales and the Senior play.

The bake sales were held to raise money for the various events connected with graduation. They also supplied the students with a wide variety of desserts to break the monotony of cafeteria fare.

The Senior play was also a big success. The director, Mr. Hal Langolf, discovered the old Broadway play, "How Green was my Brownie," and under his supervision the cast of eleven characters did a fine job of presenting it.

It was the first Senior play to have been done in four years. The play raised over $200.00 for the graduating class.

Addison Flinder, (Art Wallace) Pres. of Titan Inc., his wife Winifred (Linda Wakeen), their daughter Bonnie (Barb Seaton), Winifred's doctor Philip Morgan (Steve Polovich), his nurse Maxine Threadgill (Kathy Green), Nora Larken the housemaid (Christy McNiece), Gunther Chowdy the all around handyman (Steve Kivel), Waldo Lennimer a piano tutor (Dave McVety), Lorelia Gullock the next door gossip (Mary Jane Adams), her nephew Tony Metzel (Mike Murphy), and Henry Marnier a French cologne salesman (Mike O'Reilly) made up the all-star cast. It was obviously the most humorous and the most interesting play performed by a Senior class.

Senior Involvement Key to Graduation

Once again the time of graduation has crept quietly to the door and is tapping gently in the mind of every senior.

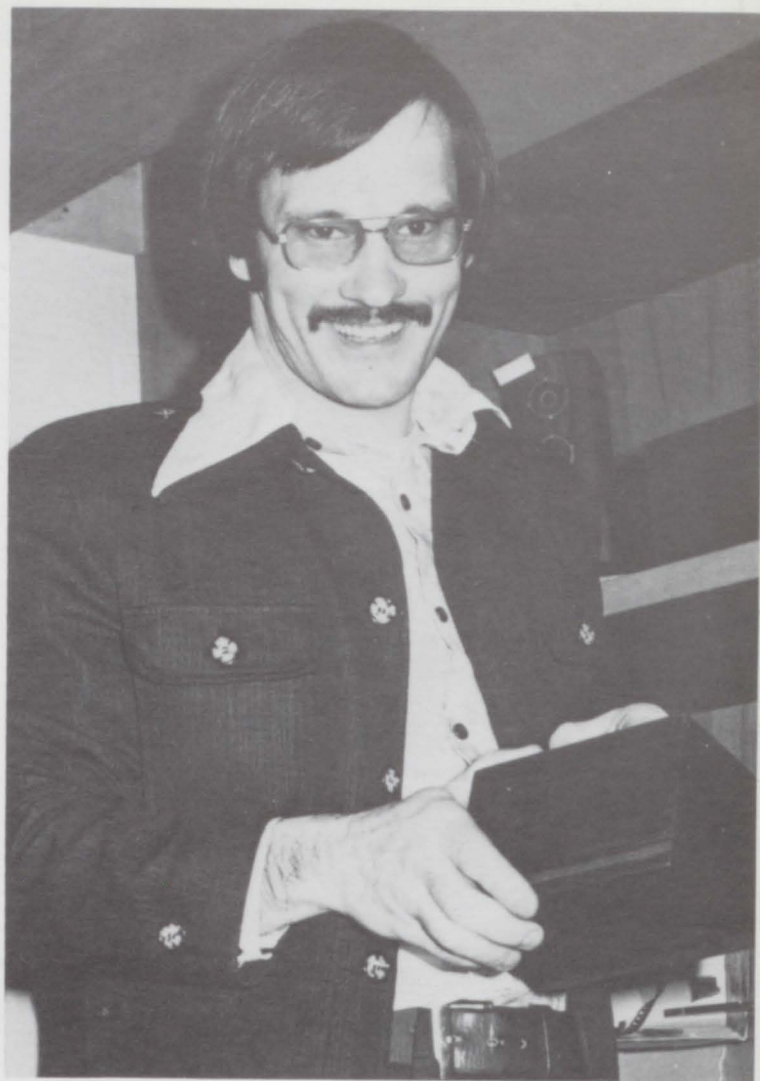

This is the time when the Seniors become caught up in the swirl of events connected with graduation.

Everything flows smoothly until class meetings begin talking of picking the class flower, motto and colors. Then the main concern on the agenda is bake sales, class pins, badges and raffles to raise money to pay for the graduation ceremonies. It doesn't stop there however, as each Senior must purchase their announcements, be measured for cap and gown and have their Senior picture taken.

Although much individual effort and teamwork is required for a successful graduation, when it's all over the feeling of pride, success, relief and the realization that you have earned the diploma makes it all worthwhile.

JUNIORS

*We've Got Spirit
Sent From Heaven
We're the Class
Of Seventy Seven*

RIGHT — Class meetings decided major questions on the class agenda for the year.

The Spirited Juniors Led the School

Junior spirit was recognized this year in almost sole ownership of the Pep Jug, (given for the most spirit at pep assemblies). Bake sales and car washes filled the class coffers. The float was a real group effort even though it didn't take first place in the judging. The class sponsor this year was Mr. Chet Harwood.

togetherness.
LEFT — Junior class officers: Emilia Zeller, treasurer;
Nancy Kivel, president; Debbie Carfore, secretary;
Ford Hebner, vice-president.

'77 Wins With Spirit

TOP LEFT — Portraying the Bicentennial spirit are Juniors Cathy Wrench and Sue Lloyd.

TOP RIGHT — Eric Kromer runs the A.V. room. Students operating this department must make sure every teacher has the proper equipment they need in working order.

LEFT — Juniors show their spirit by painting signs with their class name for a pep assembly. The Juniors won the pep jug at every assembly this year except one.

ABOVE — Michelle Crimmins and Teri Fenner paint the signs for the pep assembly before the basketball game with our cross-town rivals, Port Huron Northern.

GOPHOMORES

*We Have Spirit,
Mighty and Great,
We're the Class
Of Seventy-Eight*

TOP RIGHT — Sophomore car washes added greatly to the funds needed to carry on class activities. Penny Ruebelman helps to hurry the cars on their way by spraying off the soap.

ABOVE — Winning the pep jug is always the goal of every class at pep assemblies. Giving their class a fighting chance are Pauline Webb, Robbin McIntosh and Pat Smith.

Sophomores Worked As a Team

Working to build the class treasury, the Sophomores really went into the fund-raising business this year. They sold suckers, pins, and calendars; washed cars, and amassed over $600.00. Winning the Pep Jug at the first assembly showed the unity of their spirit. The Homecoming float effort netted them a disappointing third place finish by a narrow margin. Mrs. Linda Marks is the class advisor.

LEFT — Car washing is a popular fund-raising activity among the various clubs and classes. One held by the Sophomores had Kim Swaffield, Nancy McNiece, Barb Dusellier, Cheryl Sutton, and Tammy Lumpford helping out.

FRESHMEN

*We've Got Spirit
We're So Fine
We're the Class of Seventy-Nine*

Freshmen Were Winners

The Class of 1979 has started out with a bang. They began by winning the Homecoming float competition; an unheard of event in the history of Homecoming. Holding numerous fund-raising events (car washes, sales, and raffles) they quickly built an enormous treasury. They entered the Downtown Businessmen Association's Halloween window painting contest, showed movies at school, sold class pins, and elected officers in the fall. They won the canned food drive competition at Christmas, and sold Secret Valentine candy boxes on February 14. The freshmen class can be described using one word. Active.

LEFT — This year's Freshman class officers are Teresa Wakeen, president; Lisa Thomas, secretary; Rose Bonacci, treasurer; and Julie Falk, vice-president.

BELOW — Working on the first place Homecoming float.

BOTTOM — Winners of the canned food drive, the Freshmen collecting cans are Teresa Wakeen and Jill Gilbert. A total of 456 families were involved in this year's drive, sponsored annually by the Salvation Army.

Acknowledgements

The staff wishes to thank the many individuals that made the publication of this book possible. Without the support of the area merchants who generously bought our advertising space, the administration of the school who put up with our continual harassment, the faculty and student body who suffered through interruptions and innumerable retakes, the custodial crew who cleaned up some colossal messes, and the members of the community who contributed treasured old prints and keepsakes, this book would not have been produced.
